

Green your cleaning

Put more sustainability
into your facility every day

As the world changes around us, the message is coming through loud and clear that businesses must to do all they possibly can to become more environmentally aware and active.

The impetus for change extends to every aspect of operations - including how you manage, clean and supply your facility to ensure it is both sustainable and healthy for staff.

Whether you manage an office, a production facility or a leisure centre, you can take meaningful action. No matter if you run a small business or are part of a larger enterprise, there are many options for you to make smarter, more sustainable choices that have an impact on your staff, your customers, your family, and the planet.

Avanti has spent time seeking out the suppliers and manufacturers that want to make a difference.

They not only deliver smart, eco-friendly solutions to everyday cleaning challenges, but demonstrate a commitment to reducing their own footprint in how they run their businesses and choose recycled or sustainable materials. Some even introduce users to practices that support our planet - such as Tork PaperCircle®, the world's first paper hand towel recycling service.

Avanti helps businesses create cleaner, safer and more sustainable spaces.

We can help you transform your cleaning and hygiene so you can not only help your organisation to clean better, but spend smarter.

Here are several sustainable swaps we can help you make, to become cleaner, greener and safer at work.

Which one of these six do YOU want to become?

Paper saver

Do you want to waste less and optimise the costs of all the paper used in your washrooms and breakrooms? Overflowing bins are unpleasant, and all that money that goes down (or blocks up) the drain can leave a nasty smell on the balance sheet.

Now you can choose dispensers that mitigate over-use of hand towels and toilet paper, and opt for paper ranges that are both FSC and EU Ecolabel certified – and that’s just the start.

Tork Peakserve Continuous Paper Hand Towel Dispensers are produced with certified renewable electricity and are carbon neutral.

Tork SmartOne sheet-by-sheet dispensing helps to reduce consumption by up to 40% when compared to Jumbo toilet roll dispensers.

Tork Matic Hand Towel Rolls in Natural are dye-free and made partly with fibres from recycled cardboard boxes, as well as being FSC and EU Ecolabel certified.

Road responsible

Cleaning concentrates to refill spray bottles are appearing in your supermarket as people wise up to how unnecessary it is to transport tonnes of water around, with the associated higher carbon emissions and costs. The same logic applies to your business.

Swap bulky cases of ready-to-use chemicals in trigger spray bottles for a neat set of concentrates you can dilute, alongside refillable sprays. Adding the water at point of use is economical, reduces plastic waste – and storage becomes massively easier! Evans is Planet Mark accredited, with products that get the Evans Green Tick seal of approval, while Tork paper products are FSC certified and EU Ecolabel approved.

Evans Vanodine e:dose Eco Concentrates – just 1 Litre can fill up to 100 spray bottles.

Evans Vanodine e:dose Push Button wall dispensers ensure no chemical wastage.

Tork new compressed bundle hand towels are compressed by 50% - Transport vehicles can fit almost twice as many compressed towel bundles per truck, contributing to reduced carbon emissions.

Recycling star

We all try to recycle what we use as much as possible – but to close the circle, we need to choose recycled products too. We're familiar with recycled products in our home lives – there are many options emerging for business use as well.

There's already no shortage of brilliant recycled tools and consumable supplies – including recycled paper in the washroom supplies, or cloths, mops and buckets made from recycled plastic for your cleaning crew.

Robert Scott Ecofibre Microfibre cloths are made from 55% recycled plastic bottles.

Robert Scott 15L Recycled Professional Buckets are made from 97% recycled plastic.

Lucart EcoNatural Fibrepack 210 Bulk Pack – climate neutral toilet paper from recycled beverage cartons.

Catering champion

Plasticised cups, unrecyclable disposable plates, cutlery and other catering supplies are widely used in UK businesses. Yet there are amazing recyclable and compostable options available.

Nobody wants to feel guilty when all they are trying to do is take a quick lunch or tea break. Making eco-friendly supplies available in the breakroom, canteen and in vending machines is one that your staff will celebrate.

Vegware Compostable Double Wall Hot Cups are also recyclable in coffee cup schemes.

Vegware Composable Round PLA Deli Containers are non-toxic and made from plant-based PLA.

Vegware Bagasse bowls are made from recycled sugar cane fibre and are totally compostable.

Health hero

When products are made kinder to the environment by reducing the use of harmful chemicals, they often become less harmful to you and your team too.

Choosing non-toxic chemicals to clean surfaces is part of the green journey. Making fresh choices of products with which your staff come into direct contact in the washroom and other areas is equally important.

Tork Clarity Foam soap is formulated using a limited number of ingredients that are 99% from natural origins. It uses 35% less water to rinse hands.

Evans e:dose E4 Sanitiser has been awarded the Evans Green Tick and is rated 'low environmental impact' – in its diluted form it has no hazard classification so is safe for staff to use to clean their workstations.

Tork Constant Air Fresheners deliver propellant-free fresh scent and odour neutralisers with patented precise dosing technology, to minimise the chances of respiratory irritation for those with asthma or other sensitivities.

Workwear angel

Whether kitting out your staff with protective gloves and footwear, or providing full high-vis workwear for teams that need them, workwear may not be the first thing you think of changing for the environment. But, you can!

These days there are new options with recycled materials and fresh design that make workwear better. They include eco-conscious footwear featuring recycled plastic yarn, sustainable high-visibility jackets – even high-grip gloves coated with plastic from recycled bottles.

Portwest FC08 Compositelite Eco Safety Trainer's upper is made from recycled PET bottles.

Portwest EC24 Eco Hi-Vis Softshell jacket uses 100% recycled polyester fabric.

Portwest AP12 SG Grip15 Eco Nitrile Gloves are made using recycled plastic bottles.

Who are Avanti?

Rachel Connor, Director

Bradley Hunt, Director

Avanti helps businesses of all sizes, types, and sectors to create clean, safe, and sustainable spaces. More than 3000 carefully-chosen cleaning, hygiene, consumable, and protective products are available online and through direct orders to customers nationwide and close to our Bristol base.

Customers often stay with us for many years, and say they find us easy and nice to deal with. Avanti also offers key customers advice and business support so they can plan, optimise, and analyse their purchasing more easily. We help customers to raise hygiene levels, boost cost effectiveness, reduce risk, lower waste, and become more sustainable.

Like you, we're on our own sustainability journey. We are on the way to becoming Planet Mark certified, with a view to being truly net zero. That means we're striving to cut emissions across every aspect of the business. The team at Planet Mark, an internationally recognised certification, will hold us accountable along the way.

PlanetMark

Committed to Business Certification

Start shopping for sustainable options today.

Explore our ecofriendly range right now in our ecommerce website - we usually deliver next day to most locations across the UK.

Visit www.avantihygiene.co.uk

Need help to plan your transformation?

Our Sustainability Audit is what you need. We have helped our clients to identify many opportunities for sustainable gains and cost savings and would love to do the same for you.

Get in touch today: 0117 963 3629 hello@avantihygiene.co.uk